23. Personal statement: The Law School respects the personal goals, life experiences, and varied educational backgrounds that students bring to Drake. In order for us to make the best admission decision, we need the most useful information about you. We are interested in any facts about yourself you think are significant, including work experience and community interest, but especially evidence of leadership ability, maturity, motivation, independent thinking, and the ability to relate to other persons and groups. Please include a separate statement with your application which does not exceed two typewritten pages.

24. Letters of recommendation from academic sources are not required; however, they are strongly encouraged. If you plan to submit letters of recommendation, please ensure that they are sent promptly. If you indicate letters will be submitted, your file may not be reviewed for either admission or scholarship purposes until the Law School has received the number of letters you indicate. Drake Law School is a participant in the LSAC Letter of Recommendation Service as described in the LSDAS booklet.

Do you plan to submit letters of recommendation? yes no

If yes, please indicate the number you will submit (Circle one): 1 2 3

Please list the name(s) of the person(s) who will submit a letter of recommendation on your behalf:

25. As future members of the legal profession, the students of Drake Law School bear a special responsibility to maintain high ethical standards for the profession. Accordingly, it is expected that each student will scrupulously regard the rights of others and will observe high ethical standards of both personal and professional conduct. The Drake Law School Honor Code is concerned with discipline in a professional society, with special emphasis on examinations, law school and library procedures, preservation of property, and relationships with fellow students, faculty and staff. Violations of the Honor Code are brought before the Honor Board, a panel of elected student justices.

The Honor Code is not the exclusive source of professional standards and student disciplinary rules and procedures. The Law School reserves the right to establish, modify and enforce academic and professional standards governing satisfactory performance of students and their conduct while enrolled at Drake Law School. All Drake law students are bound by the Honor Code as adopted by the Law School student body and faculty.

I agree to be bound by the Honor Code as it is adopted by the Law School student body and the Law School faculty. I certify that the information contained herein and in any supplemental documents is true, correct and complete to the best of my knowledge. I shall promptly notify law school officials in the event that anything happens prior to my enrollment at Drake Law School that would change the information contained in this application or its supporting documents. I understand that the obligation to report changes extends to the period of time during my law school enrollment as well. I understand that any false or misleading statement, omission of subsequent or material facts, or incomplete application may be the basis of denial of admission, revocation of an offer of admission, or dismissal from law school if already enrolled.

Signature _____ Date _____

Note: The application fee is waived for applicants who apply prior to April 1. After that date, you may apply electronically via LSAC (electronically attach any supporting materials) or mail your completed application, any supporting materials and your $50 application fee* to:
